Country Home Products, home of DR Power Equipment and Power Equipment Plus has immediate opening for an SEO/E-commerce Project Manager at our Vergennes location.

This position is responsible for improving the company's organic search results by proposing, creating and launching SEO campaigns, identifying areas of improvement, and attempting to improve DRPower.com's ranking in major search engines. This position will also assist in maintaining and developing the company's DR and Neutron websites and e-commerce initiatives.

Qualified candidates for this position will have a bachelor's degree in a related field, a strong background (5+ years) in online site management, organic search optimization, experience working closely with software development teams and web designers and an entrepreneurial spirit. Strong written and verbal communication skills along with project management skills are also required. Prior experience managing e-commerce activities is preferred.
